

The New Jersey Do Not Call program has given us back the peace of our household. We are professors emeriti from The College of New Jersey and were state employees throughout our careers. Please do not allow telemarketers to invade our privacy by telephone, as they used to do before the Do Not Call program was instituted. The junk mail and computer attacks are more than enough already, and we need a law to prevent them as well.